

Countdown to Europe 2020: Towards 'Appropriate Indicators' to Measure Poverty Reduction in the EU

"To tackle poverty, we need to give a voice to those who are excluded and we need to understand the causes of poverty. At the same time, we must propose practical solutions that work."

- László Andor, European Commissioner for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion, April 2010

"84 million Europeans – or 17% of people across the EU – currently live below the poverty threshold. According to a recent Eurobarometer survey on attitudes to poverty, a large majority of Europeans (73%) consider poverty to be a widespread problem in their country, with 89% calling for urgent action by their government to tackle the problem. While most people consider their national government as primarily responsible, 74% also expect the EU to play an important role."

"An International Symposium for gathering knowledge, discussing the latest challenges and sharing best practices in poverty reduction policies in Europe"

"Europe 2020 focuses on the key areas where action is needed: knowledge and innovation, a more sustainable economy, high employment and social inclusion. And upgrading, individuals' skills will contribute to all of these areas."

- László Andor, Commissioner for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion, 8 April 2010

"The main objective of this Year is to raise awareness. Citizens awareness, stakeholders awareness, decision makers awareness. Only with the combined commitment of all can we bring people together to fight poverty and social exclusion.

The Year will also explain how the European Union contributes to finding mid- and long-term solutions to poverty and social exclusion. How the EU legislates and coordinates social policy, provides targeted funding, and exchanges good practice amongst Member States.

Above all, it aims to breathe new life into existing partnerships and create new ones at European, national, regional and local level. Because fighting poverty is not only an issue for Governments. It is for civil society too.

Ultimately, the European year will create new momentum amongst policy makers. I am confident that a renewed commitment from the Union's heads of State or Government at the end of this year will help to launch a new phase in the building of a social Europe."

- László Andor, Commissioner for Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion, 18 February 2010

Abstract and Programme

The Centre for Parliamentary Studies is pleased to contribute to the 2010 European Year on Poverty with an international high level capacity building symposium on poverty reduction indicators which seeks to raise awareness of poverty reduction as a key policy objective in Europe. The symposium has the following aims:

- Highlight the key challenges and European Commission's expectations from including poverty reduction as an important element in the Commission's new 'Europe 2020' strategy from March 2010
- Gather comparative analytical knowledge to promote poverty reduction as a measurable goal in Europe
- Provide input for 'Appropriate Indicators' which can be politically relevant for future policy initiatives in the field of poverty
- Highlight useful comparative case studies which will add value to the definition of 'Appropriate Indicators' for measuring poverty reduction in Europe
- Providing recommendations to policy makers at regional level

The Centre for Parliamentary Studies welcomes the participation of all key partners, responsible authorities and stakeholders. The Symposium will support the exchange of ideas and encourage delegates to engage in thought-provoking topical debate.
